

POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP IN BRONZE AGE ARCHAEOLOGY

McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research

Salary: €52,000 p.a. (£41,600 pa approx)

Limit of Tenure applies*

The EU project Forging Identities is looking for qualified candidates for a post-doctoral position of 18 months duration at the McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research. The position is funded by the European Commission FP7 People Programme (Marie Curie actions).

The successful candidate will work as a partner on the international European research team Forging Identities and will be a member of a dynamic and mobile research environment. He/she will liaise with project collaborators, compile and analyse data on Bronze Age material culture from the European continent and contribute to disseminating the results. He/she will have a PhD, proven knowledge of the European Bronze Age, good writing skills and a reading knowledge of German.

Proposals must be securely based on the project's work package on material culture and identity described at <http://www.arkaeologi.dk/forgingidentities/>. Please consult this web site for details on the background, objectives and methodology of the Forging Identities project.

Conditions of the EU award state that citizens of EU and EU-associated countries only may apply and that no-one can apply for a position in their own country. Therefore this post is open only to applications from citizens of EU countries and EU-associated countries other than the UK.

Extra research funding will be available to the post holder for scientific analyses, travel and participation in project activities and meetings.

The starting date will be 1 September 2010 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Informal enquiries can be addressed to Dr Marie Louise Stig Sørensen (mlss@cam.ac.uk). Further particulars and an application form (PD18) may be obtained from Ms Sara Harrop, (tel. 44 1223 339284; email: slh30@cam.ac.uk). Applications IN HARD COPY should reach Marie-Louise Sorensen, Department of Archaeology, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ by 31 March 2010.

* Limit of tenure: until 29 February 2012
